

The Ruby-throated Hummingbird - 30-Second – Captioned for the Visually Impaired

MUSIC: "HINTERLAND WHO'S WHO" THEME

ANNOUNCER (V.O.):

The ruby-throated hummingbird is one of Canada's smallest birds, and has the amazing ability to hover and fly backwards.

[A Hummingbird flying near a feeder]

Its tiny nest, made of cobwebs and lichen, is about the size of a toonie.

[A Hummingbird flying in a hand]

To attract these colourful little birds to your backyard, plant a flower garden; hummingbirds will feed on the nectar and insects.

[A Hummingbird in a flower garden]

To learn more, visit hww.ca.