

The Monarch Butterfly - 30-Second – Captioned for the Visually Impaired

MUSIC: "HINTERLAND WHO'S WHO" THEME

ANNOUNCER (V.O.):

The monarch's return after its long winter absence in Mexico and California is a sign that the Canadian summer has also returned.

[Monarch's caterpillar on a leaf]

But because of environmental threats, like pesticides and the loss of breeding habitat, the familiar orange, black, and white of Canada's best-known butterfly may become an uncommon sight.

[Butterflies gathering pollen]

To learn more about the monarch and discover how you can help protect Canada's wildlife, visit hww.ca.